

PREFACE .01

A Chart of Accounts is a listing of account titles, with numerical symbols, used in the compilation of financial data concerning the assets, liabilities, capital, revenues, and expenses of an enterprise.

An outline of the required Chart of Accounts for hospitals is presented in this section along with an explanation of the numerical coding system, and a description of the nature and content of each account required to be used and reported. It is recognized, however, that it is impossible to develop a Chart of Accounts that will fulfill all of the requirements of all hospitals. Many hospitals will not require the detailed information provided for the Chart of Accounts; others may require even more detailed classification. The Chart of Accounts is designed (at the zero level) to provide the basis for a minimum standard of uniform accounting and reporting which will meet the needs of management, regulators, planners, and others.

Hospitals are required to use for reporting purposes all balance sheet accounts which have capitalized titles and which have numerical codes with a fourth digit of zero, when such balance sheet items exist. These accounts are referred to as zero level accounts.

Hospitals are required to use for reporting purposes all revenue and expense accounts which have capitalized titles and which have numerical codes with a fourth digit of zero when such a function as defined in this manual exists even though the activity is not separately organized within the hospital. The only circumstances under which the hospital need not report an existing zero level account is when the patient service provided in a daily hospital services cost center is not provided in a discrete unit, or when the zero level account has sub-accounts which must be reported individually, e.g., 3411/6411, 3412/6412, 4911/7911, 4912/7912.

Since the zero level accounts presented in this manual are required, all zero level accounts presented herein, except as noted above, must be reported by the hospital wherever the related item or function exists in that hospital. A hospital will not be granted an exemption to the establishment of an account solely because of reporting difficulty.

FUNCTIONAL AND RESPONSIBILITY CONCEPTS .02

In developing this Chart of Accounts, it was necessary to choose between functional and responsibility concepts of accounting. Both of these concepts result in the accumulation of the same amount of total costs. However, because organizational structures vary among hospitals, responsibility accounting would not allow for comparability. On the other hand, functions (Housekeeping, Dietary, Intensive Care, etc.) carried out by any hospital would be similar, thus a functional accounting system allows for comparability. For this reason, this Chart of Accounts is based upon functional accounting concepts.

NUMERICAL CODING SYSTEM

The numerical coding system in the Chart of Accounts is based on the use of a six digit numbering system. Account numbers include four digits to the left of a decimal point which identify primary account classifications and two digits to the right, which identify secondary account classifications.

The numerical coding system also provides for daily hospital and ancillary service revenue accounts only, that positions seven and eight can be used for designating the program in which the patient is being served as defined by the second and third digits of the routine patient care cost center numbers.

The first digit of an account designates the financial statement classification of the account.

- 1 - Assets
- 2 - Liabilities, Equity, and Capital or Fund Balances
- 3 - Daily Hospital and Ambulatory Services Revenue
- 4 - Ancillary Services Revenue
- 5 - Other Operating Revenue and Deductions from Revenue
- 6 - Daily Hospital and Ambulatory Services Expenses
- 7 - Ancillary Services Expenses
- 8 - Research Expenses; Education Expenses; General Services Expenses; Medical Care Administration Expenses; Other Operating Expenses
- 9 - Non-Operating Revenue and Expenses

The second, third, and fourth digits of the daily hospital services, ambulatory services and the ancillary service centers are the same for revenue and expense.

Balance Sheet Accounts

.031

The balance sheet coding uses only the first four digits appearing to the left of the decimal point. The two digits to the right of the decimal point are available for the optional use of the hospital.

Daily Hospital and Ambulatory Services

.032

The daily hospital and ambulatory services revenue allows the use of six digits—four to the left of the decimal and two to the right of the decimal. The digits to the left of the decimal represent the functional area serving the patient; the first digit to the right of the decimal represents the classification of service category of the patient service which the patient received and the second digit represents the primary payor for services rendered (Medicare—Part A, Blue Cross, Self Pay, etc.).

Ancillary Services Revenue .033

The ancillary services revenue allows the use of eight digits—four to the left of the decimal point and four to the right. The digits to the left of the decimal represents the ancillary service area rendering service; the first digit to the right of the decimal represents the classification of service category of the patient service which the patient received and the second digit represents the primary payor for services rendered (Medicare—Part A, Blue Cross, Self Pay, etc.). The third and fourth digits to the right of the decimal point may be used to designate the program in which the patient is being served as defined by the second and third digits of the daily hospital and ambulatory services cost centers.

Operating Expense .034

The expense coding uses six digits—four to the left of the decimal and two to the right. The digits to the left of the decimal represent the cost center incurring the expense. The digits to the right of the decimal represent the natural classification of expense. See Section 200.037 for explanations of digits representing the natural classification of expense.

Non-Operating Revenue and Expense .035

Non-Operating revenue and expense consist of amounts not directly related to patient care, related patient services or the revenue and expense of related goods. The non-operating revenue and expense coding uses the four digits appearing to the left of the decimal point. The digits to the right of the decimal are available for the optional use of the hospital.

Natural Classification of Expense

The coding system for expenses provides for the use of six digits: four digits to the left of the decimal point and two digits to the right of the decimal point. If two digits to the right of the decimal point are not sufficient for the individual hospital requirements, additional digits to the right of the decimal point may be added to obtain the desired detail.

First digit - indicates the primary account classification of expense account.

6	Daily Hospital and Ambulatory Service Expense
7	Ancillary Service Expense
8	Other Operating Expense
9	Non-Operating Expense

Second through Fourth digits (010-999) - indicates the primary sub-classification of accounts.

Decimal Point - the two required digits (fifth and sixth digits as specified below) identify secondary account classifications.

The major categories are as follows:

.00 - .19	Salaries and Wages
.20 - .29	Employee Benefits
.30 - .39	Professional Fees
.40 - .49	Medical and Surgical Supplies
.50 - .59	Non-Medical and Non-Surgical Supplies
.60 - .69	Utilities
.70 - .79	Purchased Services
.80 - .89	Other Direct Expense
.90 - .99	Depreciation/Rent/Transfers

.00, .10 Salaries and Wages

.0371

If hospital management is to have maximum control over labor costs, close control of the number of man-hours paid is essential. Man-hours are a more stable measure of labor utilization than dollars, because man-hours are not affected by inflation. Also, when man-hours are compared to units of service, they can provide management with information that is useful both for internal control and external comparisons.

Full-time equivalent (FTE) employees must be reported by natural classification of salaries and wages. This requires that the hospital maintain a record of man-hours for all personnel whose compensation is included on the payroll including exempt personnel. The hospital must also maintain a record of man-hours for non-paid workers. These man-hour records must include separate records of worked man-hours worked, overtime worked, call-back hours worked, restricted on-call hours, hours spent in in-service education, and so forth. Non-worked man-hours will include paid vacations, holidays, paid sick leave, military leave, educational leave, bereavement or funeral leave, jury duty, paid lunchtime and so forth.

Overtime hours are hours for which an overtime pay rate is used. The actual overtime hours are not treated differently from regular worked hours: it is the rate that changes. This is preferable to the common but undesirable practice of adding additional hours to the records when calculating the payroll so that the regular pay rate can be used instead of the overtime rate.

On-call and/or standby pay is compensation to an employee for being available to work. During that period when the employee is on call or on standby, he might not actually perform work. The Fair Labor Standards Act differentiates between restricted and unrestricted on-call situations. All restricted on-call hours are compensable and contribute to the total hours used for determining overtime pay. Unrestricted on-call hours do not contribute to total hours, but unrestricted on-call compensation does contribute to the salary base used for calculating overtime premiums only. Thus all restricted on-call hours must be accounted for, but only those hours worked need be accounted for when employees are on unrestricted on-call duty.

In those instances where the hospital has a policy to pay for a minimum number of hours whenever an employee is called back to work and the employee works less than the minimum number of hours, the worked time recorded will include only the number of hours actually worked. For example, a four hour minimum is guaranteed; the employee works two hours and returns home. The hospital will record only two hours as worked time.

Salaries and wages are defined as (1) all remuneration, payable in cash, for services performed by an employee for the hospital, and (2) the fair market value of donated services when there is the equivalent of an employer-employee relationship. The value of donated services may be evidenced by a contractual relationship which may provide the basis for valuation. If persons donating the services are not paid (or are paid less than fair market value of their services), the lay-equivalent salaries (or the difference between lay-equivalent salaries and salaries paid) must be reported as expense with the credit to non-operating revenue. Do not include services rendered by persons such as candy-strippers unless the hospital would actually hire someone to perform such services. Reimbursement of independent contractors such as private duty nurses must be excluded.

2290	FUND BALANCE
2292	Depreciation Funds

2294	Value of Donated Property, Plant and Equipment

Unrestricted Fund balances represent the differences between the total of Unrestricted Fund Assets and Unrestricted Fund Liabilities, i.e., the net of the Unrestricted Fund. Separate sub accounts may be maintained for the above when applicable.

The Transfers from Restricted Funds for Capital Outlay account should be credited for the cost of capital items purchased directly by the Unrestricted Fund with funds from the Plant Replacement and Expansion Fund. The fair market value of donated property, plant, and equipment (at the date of donation) should be credited to the Donated Property, Plant and Equipment account. At the end of the year these accounts should be closed out to the Fund Balance account.

Depreciation Funds (Account 2292) represents amounts restricted by third party payors for replacement of specified assets.

CHART OF ACCOUNTS - INCOME STATEMENT

An Income Statement is an accounting statement which reflects the financial results of a hospital during an accounting period. The data for this statement are accumulated in the revenue and expense accounts.

Hospitals are required to use all revenue and expense accounts which have capitalized titles and which have numerical codes with a fourth digit of zero when such a function as defined in this manual exists even though the activity is not separately organized within the hospital. The only circumstances under which the hospital need not report an existing zero level account is when the patient service provided in a daily hospital services cost center is not provided in a discrete unit or when the zero level account has sub-accounts which must be reported individually, e.g., 3411/6411, 3412/6412, 4911/7911, 4912/7912. For example, if pediatric patients receive care in the Medical/Surgical Acute cost center, no reclassification of expense or revenue from the Medical/Surgical cost center to the pediatric cost center is required. No functional reporting of revenue and expense is required for daily hospital service cost centers.

Where a function required by the accounting system is not separately organized within the hospital, but combined with one or more functions required by the accounting system, an analysis will be required to determine the gross revenue and direct expenses applicable to each required function. For instance, smaller hospitals may be combining the functions of Electrocardiography (Accounts 4290/7290) and Electroencephalography (Accounts 4460/7460). In such cases, it is necessary to determine the total direct revenue and direct costs relative to the two different types of services rendered.

The gross revenue recorded in each required revenue account must be the actual gross revenue attributable to such identified function. The expense recorded in each required expense account must represent the direct expenses related to each identified function. The direct expenses related to such function may be determined based upon analysis. It should be noted that reclassification must be made for material amounts of misplaced costs.

Since the zero level accounts presented in this manual are required, all zero level accounts presented herein except as noted above, must be reported by the hospital where the related item or function exists in that hospital. A hospital will not be granted an exemption to the reporting of an account solely because of accounting difficulty.

Operating Revenue Accounts-General .071

Hospital revenue consists mainly of the value, at the hospital's full established rates, of all hospital services rendered to patients, regardless of amounts actually paid to the hospital by or on behalf of patients. The objective of patient service revenue accounting should be that of compiling a complete and accurate record, on the accrual basis, of gross revenue, accumulated by revenue centers and by various inpatient and outpatient classifications, and a record of revenue deductions, classified by type. In many instances, the hospital receives less than its established rates for the services it renders. It is important to develop information that reflects both the potential total revenue and the revenue "adjustments" resulting from the inability to collect established rates for the services provided.

Patient service revenues must be accumulated in the accounts in such a manner as to clearly identify these revenues with the functional ambulatory services and ancillary services cost centers and the discrete daily hospital services cost centers of the hospital. Measurements of revenues of each revenue producing cost center are needed for comparison with the expenses of the center, so that operating performances can be evaluated, planned, and controlled.

In addition to patient service revenue, hospitals obtain revenue from sources and activities only indirectly related to patient care. These "other" operating revenues typically consist of tuition revenue, parking lot revenue, cafeteria sales, etc.

Regardless of the source of hospital revenue, it is important that it be accounted for on the accrual basis. This system of accounting requires that revenue be recognized and recorded in the accounts in the time period it is earned, irrespective of the timing of the cash flow between the hospital and other parties. No other system provides the necessary qualities of completeness, accuracy, and usefulness in accounting data and/or the proper basis for matching revenues with expenses.

The operating revenue accounts in the chart of accounts presented are classified into six categories.

1. DAILY HOSPITAL SERVICES

This group of accounts (3000–3690) is used to record the gross revenue, measured in terms of the hospital's full established rates, earned from daily hospital services rendered to inpatients. These revenues must be recorded at the hospital's full established rates regardless of the amounts actually collected.

Daily hospital services generally are those services included by the provider in a daily service charge-sometimes referred to as the "room and board" charge. Included in daily hospital services are the regular room, dietary and nursing services, medical and social services, and the use of certain equipment and facilities for which the hospital does not customarily make a separate charge. All medical and surgical supplies are excluded.

Daily hospital services are categorized into broad areas: (a) acute care, (b) definitive observation, (c) intensive care, (d) nursery, and (e) sub-acute.

- a. Acute Care - This group of accounts (3000–3270) is used to record the gross revenues, measured in terms of the hospital's full established rates earned from daily hospital services provided to patients who are in an acute phase of illness but not to the degree which requires the concentrated and continuous observation and care provided in the intensive care units of a hospital.

- b. Definitive Observation - This group of accounts (3280–3290) is used to record the gross revenue measured in terms of the hospital's full established rates earned from daily hospital services provided to patients who are in a phase of illness more intensive than acute care but not sufficiently intensive to require admission to an intensive care unit of a hospital.
- c. Intensive Care - This group of accounts (3000–3490) is used to record the gross revenues measured in terms of the hospital's full established rates earned from inpatient intensive care services provided in a hospital unit to patients which require extraordinary observation and care on a concentrated and continuous basis.
- d. Nursery - This group of accounts (3500–3590) is used to record gross revenues measured in terms of the hospital's full established rates earned from nursery services provided to newborn infants which require routine and premature care.
- e. Sub-Acute Care - This group of accounts (3600–3680) is used to record the gross revenues measured in terms of the hospital's full established rates earned from services provided to patients who require a level of nursing care less than acute, including residential care.

2. AMBULATORY SERVICES

This group of accounts (3710–3990) is used to record the gross revenues measured in terms of the hospital's full established rates earned from ambulatory services. The essential characteristic distinguishing ambulatory services is that patients arrive at a facility of the hospital for a purpose other than admission as an inpatient. For reporting purposes, ambulatory services, free standing clinic, free standing emergency services and home health services.

3. ANCILLARY SERVICES

This group of accounts (4000–4980) is used to record the gross revenues measured in terms of the hospital's full established rates earned from ancillary services. Ancillary services generally are those special services for which charges are customarily made in addition to routine charges and include such services as laboratory, diagnostic radiology, surgical services, etc. Ancillary services are billed as separate items when the patient receives these services.

SECTION 200
CHART OF ACCOUNTS

4. ADMISSIONS SERVICES

This group of accounts (4990–4990) is used to record the gross revenues measured in terms of the hospital's full established rates earned from admissions services. The admissions center is composed of that portion of 3 general service center costs which are allocated via step-down to the daily hospital service centers. The general service centers are: Medical Staff Administration, Medical Records and Social Services.

5. OTHER OPERATING REVENUE

This group of accounts (5000–5890) is used to record all operating revenues other than those that are directly associated with patient care.

6. DEDUCTIONS FROM REVENUE

This group of accounts (5900–5990) is used to record reductions in gross revenue arising from bad debts, contractual adjustments, uncompensated care, administrative, courtesy, policy discounts, adjustments and others.

7. UNREGULATED SERVICES

This group of accounts is used to record all revenue associated with patient care services not regulated by the Health Services Cost Review Commission.

Operating Revenue Accounts-Description .072

Patient Revenue Account Descriptions .0721

The descriptions of the patient revenue accounts in the following section are extremely brief. This is due to the fact that detailed descriptions of the functions or types of activities to be included in each cost center are included in the cost center descriptions which follow. The revenue relative to these functions and activities must be recorded in the revenue account matching the cost center in which the costs are recorded. For example, charges for Pediatric Acute services are recorded in Pediatrics Acute (Account 3170) and the cost of the services are recorded in Pediatrics Acute (Account 6170). Thus a matching of revenues and expenses is achieved within each cost center.

------	-------------------------------	-------------

Account 5909 shall be used to accumulate the hospital's periodic estimates of the amounts of accounts and notes receivables from all receivables that are likely to be credit losses.

Reporting Schedule

Because hospitals experience different bad debt patterns with various classes or types of patients, it is recommended that the computation of the estimate (provision) take into consideration these differences. Sub-accounts may be established in order to reflect the differences more accurately. The hospital may use any Provision for Bad Debt Sub-accounts which will enable a more accurate estimate of credit losses.

5910	CONTRACTUAL ADJUSTMENTS-MEDICARE	Schedule GT
5911	Medicare-Part A
5912	Medicare-Part B
5920	CONTRACTUAL ADJUSTMENTS-MEDICAID	Schedule GT
5930	CONTRACTUAL ADJUSTMENTS-BLUE CROSS	Schedule GT
5940	CONTRACTUAL ADJUSTMENTS-OTHER	Schedule GT

These accounts must be charged with the differential (if any) between the amount based on the hospital's full established rates, of contractual patients' charges for hospital services which are rendered during the reporting period and are covered by the contract, and the amount received and to be received from third-party agencies in payment of such charges, including adjustments made at year-end, based upon Cost Reports submitted. For example, if during the year, a hospital follows the practice of debiting the contractual adjustment account for the amount of the retention on interim payments, the following adjustments would be necessary at year-end to properly reflect each Contractual Adjustments account:

- 1) The amount of the retention in year-end program accounts receivable should be estimated and reflected in the accounting records by debiting the contractual adjustment account and crediting appropriate Allowance for Contractual Adjustments account (1040).
- 2) The Contractual Adjustments account should be adjusted to reflect cost reimbursement settlement, with the offsetting debit or credit going to the appropriate Receivables from Third Party Payors account (1050) or Payable to Third Party Payors account (2070).

Reporting Schedule

Prior period contractual revenue adjustments normally would also be reflected in these accounts rather than in the Fund Balance or Retained Earnings accounts. (Please refer to the AICPA Hospital Audit Guide for a more extensive discussion of accounting for prior contractual revenue adjustments.)

Should the hospital receive more than its established rates from an agency, the differential is credited to these accounts.

In any instance, of course, when the difference between a patient's bill and the payment received by the hospital from a third party agency is recoverable from the patient, the differential is retained in Accounts Receivable until it is paid or until it is deemed to be a bad debt and is written off.

5941 CONTRACTUAL ADJUSTMENTS - VOLUNTARY

Any difference between a patient's charge and the payment received by the hospital which is as the result of a contract between the hospital and a third-party payor, employee, or employee group whereby the hospital agrees to accept less than approved charges as payment for services rendered shall be charged to account 5941 - Contractual Adjustments - Voluntary. This account shall not include any monies which are as the result of contractual adjustments mandated by Commission approved rate orders. It should additionally be noted that such monies shall not be charged to accounts in such a way as to increase charges to any other patient or payor.

For example, if the Commission approved charge is $100 and the contractual allowance to the patient as the result of a voluntary agreement is $90 and the hospital receives $85, then $10 shall be charged to account 5941 and $5 shall be charged as a bad debt.

Also for example, if the approved charge for a service is $200 and the Medicaid-Commission approved discount would result in a normal payment of $188, but that the hospital and Medicaid have entered into an agreement which allows for a payment by Medicaid of $175, then $12 shall be charged to account 5920 and $13 shall be charged to account 5941

5950	CHARITY/UNCOMPENSATED CARE	Schedule GT
5951	Charity/Uncompensated Care-Hill-Burton
5959	Charity/Uncompensated Care-Other

This account is charged with the differential between the amount based on the hospital's full established rates, of charity/uncompensated care patients' bills for hospital services and the amount (if any) to be received from such patients in payment for such services. This differential should be credited directly to the appropriate Accounts Receivable account, rather than to a Contractual Adjustment account, as such charity/uncompensated care discounts are readily determinable. Charges billed and uncollected for medically unnecessary services are not recognized by the Commission, as charity or uncompensated care and should not be charged to these accounts. Amounts resulting from medically unnecessary services should be charged to Administrative, Courtesy and Policy Discounts and Adjustments, Account 5970

When the hospital receives lump-sum grants or subsidies (rather than specific payments for individual patient's bills) from government or voluntary agencies for the care of medically indigent patients, the amount of the lump-sum or grant or subsidy must be credited to "Restricted Donations and Grants for Indigent Care" (Account 5960).

Reporting Schedule

5980 OTHER DEDUCTIONS FROM REVENUE

Schedule GT

Other deductions from revenue which are not included elsewhere should be credited to this account.

5990 PROSPECTIVE RATE ADJUSTMENTS

Schedule GT

This account shall be charged or credited for adjustments due to revenue lost or gained due to variances from approved rates (price variance) and variances in approved volumes (volume variance). Revenue lost due to negative variances in rates and underachieving in approved volumes will be recouped, wholly or in part, by the hospital through increases in prospective rates. Similarly, revenue gained due to positive variances in rates and overachieving in approved volumes will be paid back, wholly, or in part by the hospital through reductions in prospective rates.

Patient Care and Other Operating Expense Accounts – General

Expenses are expired costs, that is, costs that have been used up in carrying on some activity during the accounting period and from which no future measurable benefit will be obtained.

Hospital expenses consist primarily of employee compensation, but substantial amounts of expense are in the form of supplies used, utilities, repairs, insurance, depreciation and other items. The objective of expense accounting is to accumulate on the accrual basis, complete and meaningful records of expenses. Within each cost center, the expenses are classified according to natural classification (see Natural Classification of Expenses, Section 200.037) by the use of the fifth and sixth digits in the numerical coding system.

Hospitals are required to use in the required reports all revenue and expense accounts which have capitalized titles and which have numerical codes with a fourth digit of zero when such a function as defined in this manual exists even though the activity is not separately organized within the hospital. The only circumstances under which the hospital need not report an existing zero level account is when the patient service provided in a Daily Hospital Services Cost Center is not provided in a discrete unit or when the zero level account has sub-accounts which must be reported individually, e.g., 3411/6411, 3412/6412, 4911, 7911, 4912/7912.

1. PATIENT SERVICE EXPENSE

This group of accounts (6000–7999) is used to record the direct expenses incurred in providing nursing and other professional services (daily hospital services, ambulatory services and ancillary services) rendered to patients. For each nursing and other professional service revenue center account a corresponding cost center account is provided. The second, third and fourth digits of the account numbers of the related revenue and expense cost centers are the same. Comparisons of the revenue and direct expense of each nursing and other professional service centers are thereby facilitated.

2. OTHER OPERATING EXPENSE

This group of accounts (8000–8999) is used to record the direct expenses incurred by the research, education, general, fiscal, general administrative, medical care administration cost centers and various unassigned cost centers. When cost finding procedures are performed, the expenses charged to these centers are allocated to the various patient service expense cost centers to determine the full cost of providing each revenue producing service.

Patient Care and Other Operating Expense Accounts-Description .074

The following pages contain detailed descriptions of the functions or types of activities to be included in each cost center, the name and definition of the applicable standard unit of measure and the data source of the standard unit of measure.

The Standard Unit of Measure must be maintained as defined and tabulated on an actual basis for all cost centers. The data source must be utilized as defined in each account description, for example, the laboratory units must be maintained by the laboratory cost center and may not be obtained from a hospital's billing system.

Standard Unit of Measure .0741

The Standard Unit of Measure is required to provide a uniform statistic for measuring costs. The Standard Unit of Measure for revenue-producing cost centers (Daily Hospital, Ambulatory, and Ancillary Services) attempts to measure the volume of services rendered to patients (productive output). For non-revenue producing cost centers, the Standard Unit of Measure attempts to measure the volume of support services rendered. The Standard Unit of Measure provides a method of determining unit cost and revenue to facilitate cost and revenue comparisons among peer group health facilities.

Standard Units of Measure should not be confused with allocation statistics used to allocate cost of non-revenue producing cost centers to each other and to the revenue-producing centers.
